

Sino-German Joint Class since 2013

Sino-German Joint Class of Information and Communications Technology for Students from

Nanjing University of Science and Technology (NJUST)

University of Stuttgart

Information

- Where: NJUST, Nanjing China (200km from Shanghai)
- When: 2 weeks 10-21.09.2018
- Lectures: Prof. Speidel “Digital communications”
Prof. Yang “Detection and pattern recognition”
- Students: 15-20 selected from NJUST and about 10 from Stuttgart (B.Sc. & M.Sc.) from EI and other departments/faculties
- NJUST provides free apartments to all German students
- University of Stuttgart may grant up to 500 Euro support per student.
- 3CP soft skills possible for EI students
- Exam in this period? Can be done in Nanjing.

Schedule

	Morning	Afternoon
Monday	Course by German Prof. (45min*3)	Course by Chinese Prof. (Chinese language, Chinese culture)
Tuesday	Course by German Prof. (45min*3)	Course by Chinese Prof. (Chinese language, Chinese culture)
Wednesday	Course by German Prof. (45min*3)	Course by Chinese Prof. (Chinese language, Chinese culture)
Thursday	Course by German Prof. (45min*3)	Academic lecture by Chinese Prof.
Friday	Course by German Prof. (45min*3)	Activities (Sports, Salon, etc.)
Saturday	Sightseeing	Sightseeing
Sunday	Free	Free

A mixture of science and culture.

Learn another country, culture and young people.

Application

- As early as possible, at the latest 04. May 2018
- Send e-mail to coordinator
Prof. Dr.-Ing. Bin Yang,
Institute of Signal Processing and System Theory mail@iss.uni-stuttgart.de with information

Full name, Gender, Nationality, Degree program, BSc/MSc, Semester, Email-Address

